

Your Top Priority in 2021

Protect your most confidential data & documents. Only SecureReview provides unprecedented human endpoint security. Your top priority in 2021 is security.

The Challenge

The transition to work from home dramatically changed legal document review. In-house counsel still expects outsourced providers to uphold strict confidentiality and data security requirements. Meanwhile, hackers have easy access to remote computers. Employees and contractors could leak confidential data. Corporate counsel needs to know that law firms and legal service providers have an ironclad security solution.

The Solution

With SecureReview, security vulnerabilities won't keep you up at night. SecureReview is best practice security for WFH document review. SecureReview has a proven track record of protecting organizations that share sensitive files with external users, while meeting stringent corporate IT and regulatory security requirements.

- Eyes-only security with biometric identity verification
- Block screen sharing, screen capture, printing, and copy/paste
- Ensure a clear machine: no files left behind, and no key-logging or other malware
- Restricted applications and internet access during SecureReview sessions
